

Log chair

Designed in 2006 by Cannolicchio & Manenti design, the Log chair has been introduced in the same year at Milan's International Exhibition.

Built to last with the various versions available and the linear although intriguing design, the Log chair features many options that set it on the high side of versatility: the steel rod frame can be chromed, painted black for indoor and white or silver painted for outdoor use, furthermore it is stackable for easy storage and moving.

Seat and back are in brown, black, white, bright red, blood red, cream, orange, green, cognac regenerated leather.

There is also a version in entangled black plastic rope on black frame and a patio/outdoor Log chair variant made with white, black or aluminium painted frame and metallic mesh.

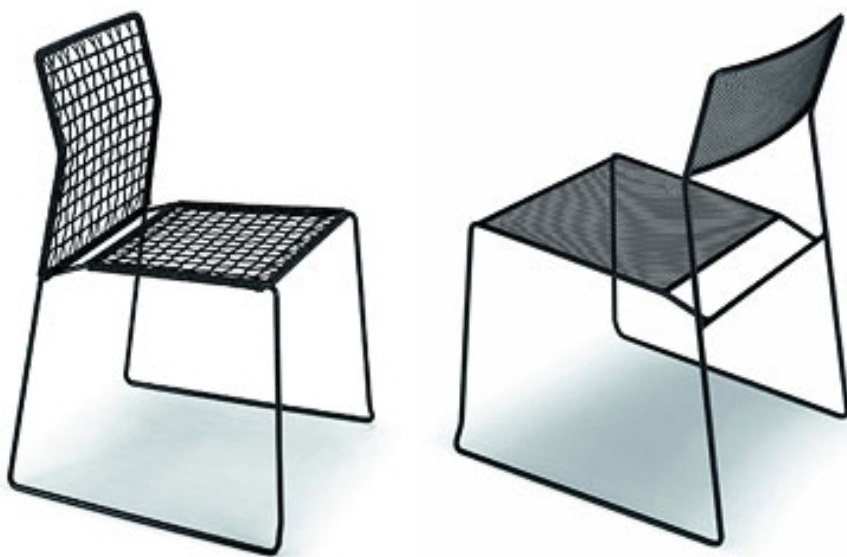

With these many bright and fresh options it is really difficult to think that Log chair would not suit any trendy interior, such as dining rooms both in public and private places, in fashion shops and hotel lounges, in conference and meeting rooms.

Matching pleasantly with the tables LA, Voila', Web and Hook from the same manufacturer.

CATAS tested for load resistance on seat and back on EN 1728:2000 standards, the only caution to take is to check the joints periodically.

Four pieces packing is also the minimum purchase quantity required, shipping in around 4 weeks from order complete with assembling tools and instructions. The mesh version is already assembled.

Dimension of the single chair are H83 W59 D58 seat height 46, all in cm.
