

Pan

The simple, stylish shape and ingenious design of the Pan sofa, created by Adrenalina on a concept from Simone Micheli, will add a versatile and sleek elegance to a variety of spaces. It incorporates a table, to make it perfect for both domestic and work areas. It suits waiting areas in wide halls as multiple pieces can be pulled close to form a continual seating system, both dividing and designing the spaces.

The Pan sofa is available in both two- and three-seater models, and may be finished with any of a vast range of patterns and fabrics, from Adrenalina's 2008 Pattern Book; this variety can easily set the Pan sofa both in a fashionista lobby as well as in a very minimalistic office or hotel lounge depending upon the sobriety degree in colors and materials.

Technical description: the Pan sofa's frame is wood, padded with expanded polyurethane and fibrefill; its seat is woven elastic. The Pan sofa range may be made flame-retardant upon request, its covers are non-removable and maintenance depends on the upholstery chosen.
