

Pontile kitchen

Parisian installation artist, object and home accessories designer Jacques Toussaint, presents the Pontile Kitchen (1998) for top Italian design company Dimensione Disegno.

Contemporary and chic, this stunning garden kitchen table begs you to run your fingers along its silky, smooth brushed steel and iroko wood surface. Complete with stainless steel sink and utensils bar this elegant and modern kitchen table is also beautiful inside - in any type of restaurant - steakhouse or ethnic restaurant, in a club house, bungalow or at home in the kitchen.

Other accessories such as drawers are also available. Should you prefer, stone slats are available instead of iroko wood. Either way, this simple yet exquisite table is guaranteed to satisfy.
